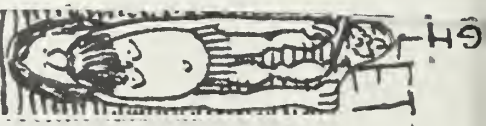
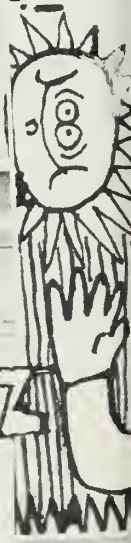
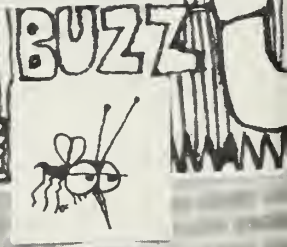
Dedication '71

abbott - bczanowski







To the best A's + B's we know —

We graciously dedicate this book to Abbott + ~~Costello~~ Bocanow because they were the only one's foolish enough to accept it from us —.

really, that's the truth, but we like them anyways thanks —.

1971 SENIOR

FRESHMEN YEAR

With our feet pretty well planted at the E. A. Martinson Junior High School, we became the big upperclassmen of the school. Kevin Clancy, as president, led our class to bigger and better things. One of the big events of the year included our "Sadie Hawkins" dance, where Larry Greene provided a fine dancing performance for all.

Surprisingly, many of the members of the Class of '71 were inducted into the National Junior Honor Society. A certain few girls decided to relive their childhood days as they pranced around the halls with their white ankle socks and high heels. The big event of the year, the May Dance, closed the first of our high school years. We left Mr. Moriarty and segregated lunches for the exciting new adventures that awaited us in the halls of MHS.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Having graduated from the halls of E. A. Martinson Junior High School, the class of "71" entered Marshfield High School, where it would stay for the next 3 years. During the following years, the athletes developed their skills, the scholars widened their knowledge, and the drop-outs dropped out. Inspiring us to heights of achievement was our worthy advisor, Mr. Donald Abbott, or was he worthy of us?

Organizing the events of our first year were Kevin Clancy, president; Sue Daley, vice-president; Bill Shanley, secretary; Marylou Maeder, treasurer; and Meg Dubois as historian. Under their leadership, the class had a successful cake sale with Bill Shanley and Kevin Clancy, leading the attack by holding up their homemade sign for the entire football game.

CLASS HISTORY

Mr. Abbott added several gray hairs to his head while directing our class play "Omen, Amen." The outstanding cast of this comedy included Bryan Mortimer and Pamela Coyne in the leading roles. The highlights of the play came when Bryan's pant legs refused to return to his ankles. Chris Aronson passionately clutched Alfred, a plastic dummy, while Janet Nectow energetically exercised with a set of pushups. All in all, it was a memorable evening.

On the more serious side, Marilyn Swan won 1st prize in the United Nations Prize Speaking Contest with an all-expense paid trip to New York. Will Hale placed third in the contest. Musically inclined John Hunt, participated in the "Greater Bostonians," a music special on WHDH T.V. Louise Gilman was accepted for the New England Music Festival.

The 1968-69 basketball season brought forth Fred Fletcher, Fred Labo, Bob Wynne, Dave Josselyn, Dick Rossi, Scott Richards, Mike and Bill Shanley as hopeful prospects. Charlie O'Kelly continued to control the boards, as he scored every game. Steve Doyle revealed his running ability throughout his first cross country season. Mal Pratt coached the year; if anyone questioned him about his only losing season in 25 years, Coach Pratt would say, "Ah, it was our boy, Andy, ah, Hunt." Our first ice hockey season finds in the penalty box, Jay Adler, with a record 3 and 3; that is, 3 fights, 3 wins. Joining Jay were Jake Connolly, Chuck Capello, Scott Murphy, Steve Vining, Bob Ford, Mark Longden, Chris Morgan, and goalie, Dave Pinkham.

Bouncing back to basketball, we find that the girls (under the direction of devastating Dan Pierce) included Mickey Coppenrath, Meg Dubois, Jan Anderson, Gayle Frugoli, Audrey Dam, Lisa Kennedy, Sue Carty, Meg McNulty, and Cindy Catabia, who shot their way to a winning season. Furthermore, Joanne Williams, Sue Daly, and Lee Clapp led the Field Hockey team to an undefeated season. In softball, Eileen Ryan and Debbie Leddin received their letters.

Other highlights of the year included Mr. Searfoss' "cotton picking" biology labs running "hot as blue blazes"; the certain sophomore girls' lunch table feeding Mr. Babb with jokes for his senior classes; the spring courtyard privileges; and the launching of Miss Janet Anderson in her brilliant career as daily announcer.

JUNIOR YEAR

In 1969 the Class of '71 swam through the puddles and slipped over the ice into the new addition as we began our junior year. Some firsts occurred at M.H.S. that year: talk studies and the elimination of the dress code. This was truly a year of changing styles.

Our junior year brought a complete changing of the guard as Tim Keenen became President; Mark Palmstrom, Vice-President; Martha O'Brien, Secretary; Sue Carty, Treasurer; and Gayle Frugoli, Historian. The group "Emergency Exit" played at the first dance that year and walked out the emergency exit with all the profits. In fact, we lost $40. The Class redeemed this loss, however, by realizing a $700 profit at the Variety Show. Jane Turner won first prize; Vanessa Edwards, second prize; and the Midgets, third.

Our boys jogged on to the football field and scored a brilliant win over Duxbury, and another win over ah . . . oh, well, on to track. In the spring of this year, Steve Doyle broke the record in the mile. During basketball season, Dave Josselyn, Bob Wynne, Bill Shanley, Mike Shanley, Will Hale, Steve Payne, and Fred Labo led Warren Searfoss' Hotdogs through another season. The girls basketball and field hockey teams held about the same record as the year before, losing to the same teams.

Donovan's song "Wear Your Love Like Heaven" became the theme of the Junior Class prom. Fighting our way through debris and choking on the dust of the Rexicana, a small band of us, armed with brooms and crepe paper, managed to transfrom the halls into an outstanding creation. Ann Shackleton was crowned Queen, with Janet Anderson, Sue Carty, Martha O'Brien, Debe Leddin, and Paula Loughran attending in her court. The evening was regarded as a success even though Mr. Abbott went home with 27 new gray hairs.

Tim Keenen and Charles O'Kelly were chosen by the faculty members to go to Boys' State. Marilyn Swan was elected to represent M.H.S. at Girls' State.

The students of Marshfield High School continued to rattle the foundations of these hallowed halls with the Memorial Day protest. The year ended with a classic bomb scare during the first day of final exams.

SENIOR YEAR!!!

The senior year started as junior ended — with a series of telephone calls. As a result, we witnessed our illustrious fire and police departments in action. For the first time in our three years at MHS, the football team had a winning season. Tri-captains Steve Vining, Fred Fletcher and Fred Labo led the squad. Likewise, that fall Steve Doyle was the All-League Champion, and led the Cross Country team to a winning season. The class elected Tim Keenen as President, Mark Palmstrom as Vice-president, Chris Aronson as Secretary, Sue Carty as Treasurer, Gayle Frugoli as Historian, and Fred Fletcher as Chaplain. Even with strong financial backing, one could faintly hear Sue Carty saying, "Pay your dues." Kevin Clancy became the Student Council President, assisted by Bill Shanley, Vice-president, Janet Anderson Secretary, and Sue Daley Treasurer. Tiptoeing their way to stardom, Steve Vining, Bob Wynne, and Fred Labo performed a folly of fantastic footsteps to highlight the Senior-Junior Variety Show. First prize in the show went to Banessa Edward; second prize, to Mary Deegan and Gail Powers; third prize, to Jane Turner; and a special good sportsmanship award to the "Ballerinas." The Senior-sponsored play, "The Miracle Worker," featured Debbie Daneman, Roger Taylor, and Beverly Gunther. The Class of '71 came up with another first of abolishing Senior Superlatives. This was replaced by the Class Will and History.

The Class of '71 has made it this far, and looks back upon four memorable years. We anticipate Class Day, the Banquet, the all-night party, and — most of all — Graduation.

Student Council

The Student Council is made up of one member from each high school homeroom, one representative from every recognized school club or organization, the elected vice-president of each class, a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer elected by the student body. Meetings are held every activity period and are conducted according to the rules of parliamentary procedure.

The Student Council is the represented voice of all Marshfield High School students All of its actions are subject to the approval of the high school principal.

National Honor Society

Equinox Staff

Student Librarians

Students who have two or more free periods available a week and are interested in library work are eligible to become student librarians. Students with typing experience or artistic ability have particular duties open to them in cataloguing or arrangement of displays. Other students may work at the circulation desk, cover books, or perform many an important chore in the operation of the library, plus assisting other students in the library.

F.T.A.

The FTA is one of the school's more active clubs. It offers tutorial aid to students and services to teachers. Annually it sponsors a social gathering for the Marshfield faculty. The club is part of a national organization sponsored by the National Education Association. The officers are: Gretchen Mueller, President; Jean Farrell, Vice-president; Susan Smith Recording Secretary; Susan Noonan, Corresponding Secretary; Rosalie Way, Treasurer.

D.E.C.A.

DECA identifies the Program of Youth Activity relating to DE-Distributive Education Clubs of America-and is designed to develop future leaders for marketing and distribution. The organization is non-profit, non-political, school centered and totally youth oriented. All Chapters are self-supporting, with members paying local, state and national dues. It is the only national youth organization operating in the nation's schools to attract young people to careers in marketing and distribution.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

KEY CLUB

AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB

This informal club is concerned with instruction on the use and care of the audiovisual equipment. Students in this club are called upon to aid teachers in duplicating materials and setting up complex equipment. The officers are: John Heil, President; Margaret McNulty, Vice-president; Michele Copenrath, Recording Secretary; Robert Pickett, Student Council Representative.

Ski Club

The Tide

The Class of 1953 initiated the Marshfield Yearbook, The Tide, as a senior project. The majority of staff members chosen by the advisers come from the senior class.

The staff learns through practical experience the many phases of journalism and salesmanship. Marshfield High School is proud of this growing publication, which affords each student a personal record of his high school years.

Student Receptionists

Checking attendance sheets, answering the intercom, delivering messages are just a few of the many things the receptionists do to help the office secretaries. The girls assist in the general office of both buildings, and this contribution of their time helps tremendously in the smooth operation of school business. This work helps in developing such valuable traits as responsibility, loyalty, and cooperation.

Current Events Club

This club meets on Fridays as an open forum in which they discuss, question, and air their opinions about Current News events. The issues and happenings of each week are examined, with emphasis on their importance to the lives and future of today's youth.

The officers are: President: Richard Dubois, Vice-Prresident: Lauran Harris, Secretary: Margaret Waldon, Advisor: Mrs. Smith.

Medical Career Club

The "Medical Career Club" was started in September, 1970 and now has 37 members. The interest far reaching goals and co-operation of this group has been greater than I anticipated.

On September 30, a number of girls attended the Mass. State Nurses Fair at the Government Center in Boston. Many schools of nursing were represented and the program was most beneficial to young aspiring nurses.

Guests have been chosen, thus far, from our own faculty personnel with diversified medical background. Miss Collins spoke about medical technician work. Mr. Searfoss gave an interesting talk about several new discoveries in medicine, such as the use of isotopes, and atomic energy in medicine today. Mr. Deftos showed an excellent film on the modern hospital today with its newly found electronic servants and stressed the importance of interlacing of all departments. Mr. Deftos also gave a talk on why students choose medical careers, stressing self satisfaction, enriching lives of others, service to the needy and concern for the less fortunate.

Ecology Club

At a time when nature is reacting violently to the distruction and pollution cast upon it by modern industrialized man, the members of the Ecology Club are attempting to understand how they can correct some of these problems. Talking within the club and with local leaders, cleaning up the community, and becoming aware of how action can be taken without disrupting of the social order are the guide lines within which the club hopes to be somewhat effective in resolving the crisis of the environment.

VARIETY SHOW

Vanessa Edwards

Tom, Steve and Bobby

Kathy Murray

Inquest

Denise, Sue and Jane

On October 23 and 24 the juniors and seniors collaborated to produce their Class Variety Show.

The most unforgettable performance was the Transylvania Ballet. The act consisted of four football players, Fred Labo, Bob Wynne, Steve Vining and Tommy Hale, who were properly attired in tights. They gracefully executed many "difficult" ballet steps to the amusement of the audience.

The first prize was given to Vanessa Edwards for her singing performance. Gail Powers and Mary Deegan won the second prize for their origional songs. Jane Turner, last year's variety show winner, won third prize. The judges also awarded the Transylvania Ballet an honorable mention for their excellent performance.

JUNIOR PROM

Prom. Prom? what is this word "prom?" In a world of tie-dyes and blue jeans, the tradition of the prom seems to be dying out. Despite these claims, the prom lives on at Marshfield High School. Last May 25th, the Rexicana was tastefully and beautifully decorated; the theme was "Wear Your Love Like Heaven". The couples were delighted by the music provided by the Westwood High School Band. It is true that jeans are comfortable, but a girl is agreeably different in a fancy gown, and a dinner jacket on a boy has more style than his usual patched pants and shirt. As examples see our Queen, Ann Shackleton, escort Bill Shanley, and her court, Paula Loughran, Sue Carty and Janet Anderson.

The prom has no generation gap. While Mr. Abbott and Mr. Erickson kept the peace, Mr. Boczanowski snapped pictures and Mr. and Mrs. Romeo demonstrated the real way to dance.

Anyone who was at the MHS 1970 Prom will remember what a beautiful event it was.
